CHICKERING & SONS' EXPERIENCE WITH THE EXTINGUISHER
CHICKERING & SONS FACTORY,
Boston December 16 1867
U S FIRE EXTINGUISHER Co
Gentlemen Convinced of the efficacy of the Fire Extinguisher manufactured by you we have had thirty of them placed in various parts of our Factory for several months
By a singular accident this afternoon a fire caught in our ... machine room. Water was thrown upon it with little effect and when the Extinguishers were brought to bear, a large pile of shavings was completely on fire threatening destruction to our entire Factory.
In less than three minutes from the time the streams from the three 'Extinguishers' used were first directed on the fire, it was entirely extinguished.
From this experience we are more than ever satisfied of the utility of the 'Extinguishers,' and recommend all manufacturers or others who have property where there is a risk from fire, to have them on hand and ready for use.
Respectfully yours

The National Balance Sheet
From the Chicago Tribune

Mr Commissioners Wells has presented a careful analysis of the revenue receipts and expenditures for last and present fiscal years, and the estimate for the next year. This report shows that the receipts from all sources for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1867 were $490 326 918 and the expenditures $346 729 129 leaving a surplus of revenue of $143 797 615. Congress reduced taxes to the amount of $90 000 000 per annum. The receipts from all sources for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1868 are $405 794,459, and the expenditures $379 178 066 leaving an excess of revenue of $26 616 362. The estimated receipts and expenditures for the fiscal year ending June 30 1869, are Receipts—$386 560 000. Expenditures—$312 651 445 leaving a large prospective excess of revenue, notwithstanding the fact that Congress has abolished taxation on raw cotton and manufactured articles which would have realized $87 000 000 of revenue.

The comparative result has been that Congress within the two years ending June 30 1867 has reduced annual taxation to the extent of $160, 000 000 per annum that the ordinary expenses of the Government have been reduced to $130, 000 000 per annum, which considering the depreciation of paper is not in excess of $95,000,000 in gold which was the amount in Buchanan's administration before the war. The increase in the production of the country will supply the needed revenues and probably warrant an annual reduction of the rate of taxation equal to that which was made in 1867 and repeated in 1868.

The sufficiency of the revenue for 1868–9 is somewhat contingent upon the action of Congress on the Army bill. General Grant while acting Secretary of War, submitted a revised estimate for the support of the military establishment. The expenditures of the army under the partial reduction made under existing laws, for the years 1867–8, was $63,000,000. The revised estimate predicated upon a reduction of the ..., a consolidation of regiments, and mustering out of unemployed officers called for only $33,000 000, and the appropriations are made in anticipation of such reduction. But the expenses of that portion of the army on the Western frontier are found to be greater than the estimate for the entire military force being in fact about four millions per month or $48,000 000 per year. Mr Welles calls the attention of Congress to the fact that unless an important saving can be effected here or elsewhere, the expenses of the War Department will greatly exceed the appropriations, and all the surplus revenue will be required to meet the deficiency.

One of the greatest difficulties under all governments in the reduction of armies and navies, is to get rid of the officers. The regiments may be reduced to ten privates and as many ... units each without a complaint, but the ... the hand of retrenchment is extended to the Colonels, Majors Captains and Lieutenants, there is a terrible outcry. Every officer has a host of relatives, male and female, in and out of Congress, and all combine against the reduction of the number of officers who are performing ... services. We know that Congressmen find it hard to resist these appeals but duty to the country demands that the pension list be not burdened with sinecures either in the civil or military service. Congress has no right to expend any portion of $48 000 000 per month to keep up a military organization which is useless. Whatever can be shown to be necessary, either in repressing Indian disturbances or in maintaining order in the unreconstructed States the people will cheerfully pay, but not one dollar should be expended for fancy duty or dress parade.

A Windfall for Our Side.—No other event, short of the nomination of Jeff Davis himself could have had a finer effect in uniting the Republican party of California upon Grant and insuring victory than the nomination of Horatio Seymour by the Convention of ... Copperheads soreheads and ex-traitors ... at Tammany Hall. The news of it fell upon the Democracy here like a wet blanket, and was ... ly accepted by the Union men as the sure token of Grant's triumphant election. "They have given us their weakest man to beat," "if we can't beat Seymour we can't beat anybody;" "if we allow such an arrant traitor as that to ... President we pass a vote of censure on the war and all who engaged in it," these were the stereotyped expressions which passed from mouth to mouth among Union men all over the city yesterday morning soon after our bulletin board announced the nomination of the chief of the anti draft riots of July 1863 as the Democratic candidate for President of the United States in 1868. The trick of his nomination was well played by the rebel delegations of the South, who have all along been affecting the most tender regard for Chase only as a sure means of identifying the Chief Justice with the Democracy and then a ... him in the interest of one like Seymour, wholly and openly devoted to them in the past, and secretly their tool for any complot and conspiracy affecting the future. They have succeeded so far but it is a success which like Bull Run and the capture of Sumter, only leads them to ultimate certain ruin. The ingrained Secessionist and slavery sympathists whom they have put forward on the motto "neck or nothing" will not touch bottom in half a dozen States. We give him Maryland, Kentucky and Delaware but if he has a reasonable chance of carrying another State, the name of that State has slipped our memory. There is nothing on the Pacific coast for Horatio Seymour. With some sorehead like Chase or a nobody like Hendricks there might have been a chance of success but if the American people make this man their President in preference to General Grant, they will have done more to weaken the faith of all thinking minds in popular government than all the notable failures of history. Of all the infamous propositions which have emanated from that aggregation of corruption known as the Democratic party during the last ten years this is the most audacious and insolent, as we trust and believe it is the last. With the signal failure which surely awaits Seymour the old Democracy will vanish from our sight and the new and live men, who have honestly sought to take hold of it, reconstruct its policy and make out of it something that patriotism does not sicken at will succeed to the Seymours Davises, Woods and Vallandighams. Meanwhile General Grant will administer the Government and all the South will be safely and permanently restored to the Union under the auspices of the party which conquered its rank treason.—Sacramento Union.

New York Politics.—The Republican candidate for Governor in New York is John A. Griswold now and since 1862 a member of Congress from the Troy district. He was born in 1822 has been a business man of moderate political views and is supposed to have been Fenton's candidate. It is reported that Horace Greeley could have had the nomination if he desired even with Weed's support. If so he did wisely to decline it and stick to his editorial post but we do not discover that he seriously sought the office or was pressed for it.

The present Lieutenant Governor Stewart L. Woodford is renominated. He is from Brooklyn, is quite a young man and has a capacity for eloquence. The ticket on the whole seems to be a strong one calculated to reconcile conflicting views to heal past divisions and to receive cordial support in all parts of the State.

The Democratic nominee for Governor now that Seymour has the candidacy for the Presidency will probably be taken from the city. Hoffman will have a good chance for another nomination. Beside him are named Sanford E. Church Henry C. Murphy Amasa J Parker Francis Kernan William F. Allen and others of whom Murphy is as likely as any one to be selected.—Sac. Union.

The All Prevading Chill.—Philosophers are speculating as to the cause of the prevailing chill of the air this spring. Some of them believe that over the bosom of the Atlantic are floating numerous icebergs of enormous dimensions and others hold that from some cause mysterious to them the gulf stream, which is one of the warmest of our eastern ocean coast has been carried many miles farther from the main land than ever before in the recollection of man it has been known to run. Whatever the cause may be but few of the present generation ever knew a spring to be so cold as this.—Lockport (N. Y.) Journal.

The Republican party declare that every man white or black in the late rebel States shall have his own rights the Democratic party insists that the white men in those States shall have their own rights and all those of the colored men too.

The People's Man
[From the Springfield (Ill.) Journal]

General Grant though not a politician, has a parenthetical way of stating great truths and sententious facts which is remarkable.

As early as the second year of the war, in a letter to Mr. Washburne, he writes: "I never was an Abolitionist—not even what could be called anti-slavery—but I try to judge fairly and honestly and it became patent to my mind in the early part of the rebellion that the North and South could never live in peace with each other except as one nation, and that without slavery."

And again: "As anxious as I am to see peace established I would not, therefore, be willing to see any settlement until this question is settled."

In his general order to his soldiers after the capture of General Lee in ... to the enforcement of the emancipation proclamation, he calls slavery the cause and pretext of the rebellion."

In his famous letter to the President, while acting as Secretary of War ad interim, he says: "I stated that the law was binding upon me, constitutional or not, until set aside by the proper tribunal"—a doctrine that will do to stand by.

In his testimony before the impeachment committee, he says: "I have always been ... to my own duties, and tried not to interfere with other people's." And again, "I never was in favor of general amnesty until the time should come when it would be safe to give it."

In his correspondence with President ... in reference to the removal of General Sheridan from the district of Louisiana, he says: "This is a Republic where the will of the people is the law of the land. I beg that their voice may be heard."

In his speech to the committee ... to inform him of his nomination, he said: "If chosen President, I shall have no policy of my own to enforce against the will of the people."

In his letter accepting the ... nomination he says: "Purely ... should always be left to ... the will of the people. I have always ... will and always shall."

Senator Fowler and General Butler.—The recent letter of Senator Fowler, in which he says the whole House is under the ... of those good old Democrats, B. F. Butler and John A. Logan, and he cannot have any interest in the scheme to usurp his Government by such bold, bad conspirators, has called out a brief reply from General Butler, of which the following is the material portion: "In the year 1866 after I had made some speeches in the West in favor of the impeachment of Andrew Johnson, Senator Fowler came five hundred miles to my home, in Lowell, to visit me being the first time I had ever seen him and the only errand he made was to urge me vehemently not to cease my efforts until Andrew Johnson was impeached giving as a reason, among others, that as I had never lived in Tennessee, I could form no conception of what a bad man, Andrew Johnson was in fact, and that the vivid description of his habits and conduct while Governor of Tennessee given me by a young Tennessean who was present failed to convey any adequate idea. Times change, and some of us change with time.

Greeleyisms.—The New York Tribune has the subjoined paragraphs:

The Chicago Post kindly suggests that if so and so Horace Greeley would be an excellent candidate for Governor of our State this fall. The Post blunders sadly. It probably means that the person aforesaid would make a good Governor if elected, which is intrinsically probable. But a good candidate is quite another affair and the man whose running for Governor of this State would swell our vote for Grant and Colfax is not known by the name of Horace Greeley. He will be found and nominated and then the Post may be sure that he is not only an excellent candidate, but will make a capital Governor.

The Washington Express asserts that "Horace Greeley has been in Washington to secure the appointment of Gen B F Butler as Commissioner of Internal Revenue. Mr G would gladly make two visits to Washington to secure so excellent a choice but he has never deemed it possible A J is not likely to nominate B F B and ... we are confident would not take the place—certainly not from A J.

The Candidate of a "Bloated Aristocracy."

The New York Convention invited the honors. The Brick Pomeroy repudiationists of the platform with the gold paying bondholders got the candidate. Seymour is controlled by the bloated aristocracy, the privileged class of gold grabbing Shylocks, of whom so much has been heard, and if elected President he will carry out their policy and spit upon the Pendleton platform upon which he now professes to stand. The greater portion of those who support him and give him their votes will in the event of his election be made the victims of a colossal fraud. Only two weeks before his nomination Seymour in a public speech at Cooper Institute declared in the most positive manner in favor of paying the bonds in gold, and drew a fearful picture of the consequences of paying them in "debased paper." In an elaborate speech before the New York State Democratic Convention last spring he argued the question against the Pendleton theory with all the ability and adroitness he was master of. The object of that speech was to kill off Pendleton and a million copies of it were printed and distributed throughout the country for that avowed purpose. Except for the purpose of crushing any growth of the Pendleton doctrine, that speech was wholly pointless and unnecessary. The effort was intended as an assurance to the old financial ring of which Seymour has so long been the official agent that he was still their man. These declarations on finance got him the nomination. That Democrats may see what manner of a man their candidate is, we present some extracts from his Albany speech:

It is a mistake to suppose that the bonds are mostly held by capitalists. Large sums belonging to children and widows, under the order of courts or the action of trustees, have been invested in government bonds. The vast amounts held by life and fire insurance companies and savings banks, are, in fact, held in trust for, and are the reliance of, the great body of active business and laboring men or women, or of widows and orphans. The savings banks of this State, which are the depositories of the poor, or of persons of limited means, hold about $60,000,000 of Government bonds. The whole amount held in the State of New York, in the various forms of trust will not fall below $200,000,000. If we look into other States, we shall see that only a small share of these bonds are held by men known as capitalists, but they belong, in fact, if not in form, to the business, the active and the laboring members of society. The destruction of these securities would make a widespread ruin and distress, which would reach into every workshop and every home, however humble. * * * Some hold that it is right, and that it is due to the tax-payers, that we should save what we can by paying the principal of the debt in currency, but they underrate the force of their own arguments. It is a mistake to suppose that the interests of the bondholder and tax payers are antagonistic. The fact is overlooked, that in order to make any saving by giving the bondholder a debased or worthless paper, we must bring upon ourselves disaster and dishonor, which will cost a hundred fold what we can save. It means that we are to give to the laborer for his toil a base currency, it means that the honor of our country shall be stained; it means that our business shall be kept in uncertainty and confusion, it means that the laboring man shall suffer by the increased cost of the comforts of life, it means that the tax payer shall be burdened by a government proved to be corrupt and imbecile by this very depreciation of its money. We cannot afford to speculate upon the nation's honor at so fearful a cost.

* * * * * * *

Is this the doctrine which Democrats of the Pendleton stamp contend for and hoped to establish? Is this the entertainment to which they supposed themselves invited? Let us see what their candidate says further:

The nation's credit cannot be bought at a profit unless the nation's character is dishonored. If we comcenste power there will be no discredit on our currency, no speculation in paying our bonds in paper. I thank God that the faith which we all hold as one man seeks to level up, not to level down. It means that sterling coin shall ring again on the counter of the tradesman, and glitter in the palm of labor, and gladden the heart of the wounded soldier. Our friends forget the force of their own argument. When they show how the debt will be paid and taxation lightened by economy and honesty, they also show our paper money will be made as good as gold.

* * * * * * *

Whatever our views may be, the payment of the debt will fall upon the future. Do what we may, a generation that will come after us will decide its modes without regard to anything that we may say. The depressed industry of our land, its suffering labor demands that the load of taxation shall be lightened. Our debt is not due until fifteen years from this time. How few of those who now discuss this question will be living then! If, in the meanwhile, our country is well governed, if there is economy in the conduct of its affairs and the rights and liberties of our people shall be unimpaired, our population will be increased from thirty five to fifty millions, our wealth will be more than doubled. Then this debt will rest more lightly upon greater numbers and greater wealth than it presses to-day upon the depressed industry and disheartened spirits of the people.

A Reactionary Platform.

The Sacramento Union, in an article on the sweepingly reactionary platform adopted at New York observes that the platform was very properly preceded by a set of resolutions from the rebel Vice President, A. H. Stephens, that the rebel and Copperhead elements of the party have taken the bits between their teeth, and that the platform is in all respects as ultra as they could wish. The Union further says:

This platform gives no pledge that the abolition of slavery itself will not be regarded as unconstitutional and subject to compensation, at least, if not revival. For though the Seymour preamble "recognizes as consequences of the late civil war the extinction of slavery and of the heresy of secession," we have in the added resolutions an impeachment of the war party for violating its pledge of 1862 not to interfere with the rights or institutions of the rebel States. If that is held binding on one point, why not on another? The controlling feeling of this platform, of this Convention and of the party itself, comes from those who, like Pendleton opposed the war itself, in all its stages, as unconstitutional and to whom, therefore all its results are alike void. It is fortunate for the country that this destructive and reactionary spirit has broken all bonds of prudence at New York as it did at Chicago in 1864, and has been able to express itself in spite of the thin veneering by which Seymour and others would have made Copperhead doctrine look plausible and Democratic supremacy seem safe.

John G. Whittier the Quaker poet, addresses the following simple and very Quaker like lines to the Republican candidate for the Vice Presidency:

> Colfax—when chosen to preside
> Over Freedom's Congress and to guide
> As one who holds the helm of state
> The current of its great debate
> Prompted by a wise and good
> And firm withal, to be withstood,
> Here from our northern river banks
> I send to thee my hearty thanks
> For all the patience which has borne
> The weary turmoil of Bunkum's horn
> The hiss of the Copperhead
> And folly dropping words of lead
> Still wisely ready when the scale
> Hangs poised to make the right prevail
> Still forcing at the gate secession's head
> Be crushed with scornful heel ... tread
> ... writhing tail

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON CITY.

FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, Saturday, June 27, 1868.

CONGRESSIONAL.

The Ways and Means Committee reported the new tax bill embracing whisky, tobacco and banking to the House last Saturday evening. On Monday, after disposing of the Kentucky contested election case by admitting McKee to a seat in place of Young, the House went into Committee of the Whole for the consideration of the tax bill and has spent nearly all the week on it. Tuesday, the tax on whisky was fixed at fifty cents per gallon by a vote of 87 to 37.

On Wednesday an amendment was adopted imposing an additional tax of two dollars on each distillery per day, for fermenting twenty bushels of grain or sixty gallons of molasses or less, and two dollars per day for every twenty bushels of grain or sixty gallons of molasses in excess of the first twenty bushels. Also a tax of two dollars a day on each distillery with double.

Debate was then stopped on the bill from section 12 to section 44 (these sections only affect matters of detail in reference to distilleries) and the bill was amended and passed to section 44. On Thursday all the bill down to the 104th section was disposed of. This included every thing that relates to whisky and tobacco, leaving only the sections in relation to banks and bankers. The tax on snuff and chewing tobacco was fixed at ... cents per pound and on smoking tobacco at 16 cents. On imported cigars $2 50 per pound. The tax on whisky—including the 50 cents per gallon, and the specific tax of $2 on each 20 bushels of grain or 60 gallons of molasses—is estimated to amount to 61¼ cents per gallon. A drawback of 50 cents per gallon is allowed on all liquors exported from the United States. The object of reducing the tax on whisky from $2 per gallon to nearly one fourth that amount is to break up, to some extent, the enormous stealing now carried on by the Johnson Democratic whisky ring, and to provide for the collection of the revenue.

Yesterday the portion of the bill relating to the tax on banks was disposed of, and the bill passed the House without a division. It makes no change in the present tax on banks.

On Thursday Gen. Logan asked to have taken from the Speaker's table and passed the Senate bill making contracts payable in coin. Objection was made and the bill was not taken up. The House will not probably take any action on financial matters this session.

The Senate was engaged on the legislative and civil appropriation bill till yesterday evening, when the bill was passed without a division. Several important amendments were made to the bill as it came from the House. One amendment terminates after a certain date the contract with the Globe for the publication of Congressional proceedings. Another limits Government advertising in the District of Columbia to matters pertaining to this locality, instead of publishing here all the advertisements relating to army supplies and other matters in all the new States and Territories as well as in the local papers. It was stated in debate that the Morning Chronicle and Evening Star of this city, have each received $40,000 for Government advertising during the last year.

Another amendment increases the salaries of the Comptrollers of the Treasury and Commissioners of Customs from $3,000 to $4,500 and of the Solicitor, Auditor and Supervising Architect of the Treasury, Commissioner of the General Land Office and Commissioner of Pensions from $3,000 to $4,000. The bill now goes to the House for concurrence in these and various other amendments. On Wednesday, the Senate passed by a vote of 22 to 11 the bill which passed the House last winter making eight hours a day's work among all mechanics and laborers employed by the United States. Senator Corbett offered a resolution which was adopted instructing the Committee on Judiciary to inquire into the expediency of reporting a bill to secure the Indians the right to testify in cases of murder or manslaughter between whites and Indians. He explained that in Idaho a white man has recently been acquitted of murder because Indians were not allowed to testify.

On Friday Senator Yates introduced a bill regulating the Territories providing that the Territorial Legislatures shall meet once in two years and fixing the salaries of the Governors at $2,... per annum.

ALASKA.

The Committee on Foreign Affairs through its chairman, General Banks has made an eighty and able report on the climate, mineral, vegetable and other natural resources of Alaska. They ask the House to make the necessary appropriation to carry out the provisions of the treaty between the United States and Russia, and to pay for the new territory.

THE TRIAL OF SURRATT.

John H. Surratt was released from jail last Saturday and admitted to bail in the sum of $20,000, to make his appearance in court next Monday, when his trial will commence under new indictment found against him for conspiracy, the indictment for murder having been withdrawn.

MARRIAGE IN "HIGH LIFE."

Last Thursday Senator Henderson, of Missouri, was married at the National Hotel, to Miss Mary F. Foote, daughter of Elisha Foote, Examiner in the Patent Office and niece of the late Senator Foote of Vermont. The wedding was attended by the President, Gen. Grant, Secretaries McCulloch and Browning, the Chief Justice, Senators Sprague, Harlan, Sherman, Chandler, Morton, Trumbull, Yates, Ramsey, McCreery, Conness, Corbett, Williams, Cole, Ross, Davis, Ferry, Morrill, Fowler and Cragin—nearly all accompanied by ladies—many of the Members of the House of Representatives, and hundreds of others. The wedding presents amounted to several thousand dollars, in the shape of silverware, gold bracelets, brooches, ear drops and other jewelry.

AMUSEMENTS.

Madame Ristori closed an engagement at the National Theatre in this city, last week. This week she played in Baltimore what was announced as her last engagement in America. A Washington paper says she will carry away from this country about $200,000 and the admiration of a continent. The Washington public have been entertained the present week by a troupe of minstrels at the National Theatre, a circus, and various strawberry and other church "festivals."

PERSONAL.

NOMINATIONS, CONFIRMATIONS AND REJECTIONS.

Among the nominations recently made by the President are the following: On Saturday last A. J. Moulder, of California, to be Surveyor General of California; Monday, Wm. M. Evarts, of New York, to be Attorney General of the United States and Edward C. Johnson, of Maryland (son of Reverdy Johnson) to be Assistant Secretary of the American Legation at London. On Tuesday, the President sent in the name of Edwin O. Perrin of New York, to be Justice of the Supreme Court of Utah, and Perry Fuller, of Kansas, to be Commissioner of Internal Revenue vice E. A. Rollins. Perrin has been Secretary of every Democratic National Convention from time immemorial. He is said to be a Copperhead of the vilest sort, a "dead beat" and has been hanging around Washington during the last eighteen months begging for something. Fuller is one of the most notorious lobbyists in Washington, is a Copperhead, and was mixed up with Woolley & Co. in the corruption business during the impeachment trial. He is the brother in law of Miss Vinnie Ream, and his appointment is understood to be in return for the vote of Ross on the impeachment articles. Johnson is now paying off the whisky thieves for their operations in his behalf with the offices of the people. He seems to regard the vast patronage of the Government as his own private property, to be distributed exclusively among the horde of swindlers and thieves who hang around his person. Instead of paying them out of his own purse he pays them with the office of Attorney General. This is a "new way to pay old debts." On Tuesday the Senate rejected S. S. Cox as Minister to Austria. The vote was 12 for confirmation and 30 for rejection. Thursday the President nominated Collector Smythe of New York to be Minister to Austria.

REMOVAL OF DISABILITIES.

The bill to remove disabilities from certain residents in the South, which passed the Senate last week by a two thirds majority, but failed in the House, was taken up again, on a motion to reconsider last Monday, and passed the House 98 to 44. It relieves about 1,200 persons from all disabilities incurred by having participated in the rebellion, and includes Gov. Brown, Gov. Holden, General Longstreet and several other prominent supporters of the rebellion, who now claim to be loyal, among the number.

THE SOUTHERN STATES.

Mr. Johnson's message vetoing the bill to admit Arkansas to representation in Congress, was read in the House last Saturday evening. The House immediately passed the bill over the veto by a vote of ... a strict party vote with the Speaker voting in the affirmative. On Monday the Senate also passed the bill ... notwithstanding the objections of the President. The vote in the Senate was ... yeas ... nays. No Democrats voted in the negative. Fessenden, Trumbull, Ross and Van Winkle voted in the affirmative, and the other anti-impeachers—Grimes and Henderson—did not vote. Tuesday, the Arkansas Senators, Messrs. Benj. F. Rice and Alex. McDonald, and the following day Representatives L. H. Roots, James Hinds and Thomas Boles were sworn in and took their seats in the House. On Thursday Mr. Johnson sent to the House another message vetoing the bill to admit the Senators and Representatives of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Florida and Louisiana. The House immediately passed the bill over the veto 108 to 30 and transmitted it to the Senate where in a very few minutes it was passed by 35 to 8. Fessenden and Trumbull were the only Republicans who did not vote. The Senators and Representatives from those States will be admitted as soon as their respective Legislatures can convene and ratify the amendment to the Constitution known as the 14th article. Florida has elected her Senators, M. A. S. Welch and T. W. Osborne. The two Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama and Louisiana have not yet elected. Representatives have been elected from all those States as follows: From South Carolina six, North Carolina seven, Georgia seven, Alabama six, Louisiana five, Florida one. Total thirty two, of whom twenty eight are Republicans and four Democrats. Two of the Democrats are from Georgia, and one from North Carolina and one from Louisiana.

SOLDIERS' AND SAILORS' UNION.

To-day the names of the following gentlemen were placed in the National Executive Committee of the Soldiers and Sailors Union headquarters at New York City, to represent the State of Oregon: Capt. C. P. Crandall, Portland; Capt. Chas. LaDow, Dallas; Capt. P. P. Sprague, Jacksonville; Lieut. John Smith, Eugene City. The object of the organization is to assist the Union party of the Nation in the present canvass and to preserve at the ballot box the fruits of the victories won on the field of battle; and for this purpose members of the National Executive Committee have been appointed, by the chairman in each State which was not represented in the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention held at Chicago on the 19th day of May last.

OREGON CENTRAL RAILROAD.

On Monday the House passed the Senate bill amending the sixth section of the act of July 25, 1866, granting lands to aid in the construction of a railroad from the Central Pacific railroad in California to Portland, Oregon. It extends the time eighteen months from the ... July next for the completion of the first twenty miles and requires twenty miles to be completed every two years thereafter. K.

A very rich streak of pay quartz was struck in the Timber Gulch, Jackson county, last week. The rock was sacked at the lead and thus taken to the mill at present. ...

Material is being hauled upon the ground for the construction of Mr. W. S. Ladd's banking building at Salem.

A full brass band has been organized at Jacksonville with eight instruments.

The Mobile Register is glad that Mrs. Stowe has done a little to repair the world of evil for which she is responsible in the production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Ha.

KNAPP'S CEMENT — We noticed a few days since ... Mr ... Weld ... the quality of the cement in market from the works at the mouth of the river. He mixed the cement ... water and applied the mixture ... He is satisfied that it requires one keg of ... to make a barrel ... two barrels of any Eastern brand. The ... does not necessarily stamp it as inferior, because the gloss may come from sand ... their substance burned and ground with ... rock and which may not affect ... Hopkinson, the discoverer and original owner of the quarry, has been in the city for several days and ... or three ... to call upon and request ... show us a test of the cement which he says ... will bear ... He took a tumbler partly filled with clear water ... poured into it ... wonder ... known would stand ... did harden and seemed in a fair way to become ... as hard as stone. It may be seen at any time in our office. Other cements ... pressure. Many of them will not harden under water ever with pressure. In quality, therefore ... the Oregon cement seems ... established. The best cements from the east are the Kingston and Rosendale brands ... county, New York. New Jersey cement, the only brand quoted in this market, sells ... at $4 ... Knapp's ... opens at $4 50@$5. The latter being more economical for use, both as to quality and price it will ... that it should soon drive all imported brands out of the market and we do not doubt but that it will. The title ... quarry—as between the United States the discoverer and the present ... J H Knapp and F Hopkinson are now perfected and the Company are prepared to go on with the manufacture on a large scale. They will place in the market not less than two hundred and fifty barrels per week and ... should the demand warrant enlargement of the works. The country is indebted to the enterprise of Messrs Knapp & Hopkinson for thus lopping off another drain of money to Eastern States. The use of cement in this State amounts to very considerable figures but, hereafter the greater part, if not all, the consumption will be of home manufacture

IMPERIAL FLOUR — We find that the extract we gave the other day, from the grain and flour circular of James G Weld of New York dated June 9th ... Injustice to the Imperial flour of Oregon ... brand less in price than some others. Messrs Savier & Co yesterday ... letter from their New York agent—the only person who has flour ... authorized to sell the genuine Imperial flour who states that he has not sold any of that brand for less than $14 whereas the Weld's circular ... $13 ... by sail and $13@14 25 by steamer via the Isthmus. Weld's quotation is explained in this way. The reputation of the Imperial flour in New York being well known, parties in California have put up their own manufacture branded "Imperial Mills" and placed it in the New York market. This flour is inferior and though it has the favorite mark yet when dealers find it offered by others than the authorized agent they will pay only the price of California flour. This is known to be exactly as we have stated it, Messrs Savier & Co having full advices of it from their agent. The flour quoted by Weld as Imperial was of California manufacture and we understood to be so by the New York dealers and bakers

PORTLAND ACADEMY —The examination at the Portland Academy was continued through the forenoon yesterday according to the programme announced much to the gratification of all the visitors and patrons of the school. The students evinced thorough and practical training in the branches under consideration, showing that they had ... been cramming nor skimming the surface of things. In the afternoon, the graduating class delivered ... on the following subjects, Light by Medorick V Holman, "The Boy of the Period" by Harry D Chapman, "What is Ambition" by S F Bennett ... "Tis a Glorious Chad," by Winfield S Chapman, "Men who never Die" by Douglas W Taylor. Their diplomas were presented by Ex Gov Gibbs Secretary of the Board of Trustees. Rev T L Eliott ... made a short address to the graduates and the ... making himself both interesting and instructive. The number of visitors present and especially parents of ... was something greater than is usual in a Portland school, and furnished a most encouraging feature of the closing exercises as evincing an increased interest in the institution.

... vs JACOBI —On Wednesday the counsel for Mr Lappeus in the mandamus suit, withdrew the plaintiff's petition and thus put an end to the contest between the ... Marshal and the Marshal elect, so far as the possession of the office and its adjuncts is concerned. Mr ... now has possession of all the property as well as the office. Mr Jacobi informs us, however, that he will on Monday commence a suit by quo warranto, that he will prosecute it through the Circuit Court and to the Supreme Court, if not successful in the court below. Mr ... wears a Marshal's star and directs the police of the city, makes arrests and does whatever a Marshal may do. Mr Jacobi also wears a Marshal's star, though he has not since the assumption of the office by Mr Lappeus, attempted any arrests or the control of police ... nor does he attend upon the Recorder's court or the Council. It is a very pretty kettle of fish, but the quarrel is a family one and we can't say that we have any interest in it beyond that of an amused spectator. Go in bear! go in dorg!

A BLESSED CLIMATE —The dispatches continue to speak of the ... very hot weather throughout the Atlantic ... the thermometer standing for days and days at frightfully roasting figures, while cases of death by sun ... are appallingly frequent. In contrast with all that, our climate is delightful—the days being but little more than comfortably warm, while the nights are cool and refreshing. The grumblers should try a few sniffs of the Atlantic air, if they cannot be suited with ours. Let them roast all day with the thermometer at 100° then boil all night with the thermometer at 95° to 100° and we rather guess they would come back here prepared to apostrophize our climate as most blessed

CATALOGUE OF THE PORTLAND ACADEMY —The catalogue of this institution for the year ending July 17 1868, has been issued. It contains a list of the Trustees, Visitors, Teachers, Graduates from 1859 to 1867 inclusive, and ... of the students of this term, the course of study and ... information for patrons and pupils. The ... shows the number of Seniors, the present term, 16; Juniors 15 Sub-juniors 37, Preparatory ..., Primary 74, total, 175 This is the largest number of students ever in attendance during one term, and ... three is a than the highest number ever in at... at the Willamette University—one term during the Presidency of Rev Mr Wythe. HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.
Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fevers; Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water, Invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels,
Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.
Cures Dyspepsia Liver Complaint Sick and Nervous Headache General Debility Nervousness, Depression of Spirits Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element, no fiery excitant but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs

Persons of feeble habit liable to Nervous Attacks Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive and from both sexes

As a ... Tonic HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness Premature Decay, and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed it operates to re enforce and re establish them

Last but not least it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day

Shakespearian Gallery—Romeo and Juliet

BY THE FAT CONTRIBUTOR,

[From the Cincinnati Times]

Romeo and Juliet were two young people, who resided in Verona, a small station on the New York Central Railroad. There was great enmity existing between their respective families, the Montagues and Capulets, on account of a laws it that had long been pending between them, regarding a water privilege.

Although their back yards fronted on each other, the old folks hadn't spoken together for years, and whenever any of the younger members of the family met at a town meeting or singing school, there was sure to be a fight.

One night Mr. Capulet, or "Old Cap," as he was familiarly known among the boys, gave a masquerade ball at his house, in honor of his daughter Juliet, a young lady of great beauty, fresh from a boarding school. None of the Montagues were invited, of course, but Romeo was induced, by a wild young kinsman, named Mercutio, to look in a little while, disguised, "just to see," as Mer[illegible] expressed it," what sort of a lay out the old man had."

It was there that Romeo saw Juliet for the first time. Having been engaged fourteen times he was naturally very susceptible, and as Juliet was exceedingly pretty, he fell in love with her at first sight, not knowing that she was the daughter of old Bill Capulet, his father's direst foe.

In his disguise as a pilgrim, he made love to her at once, getting on very rapidly. In fact, by the time the ball broke up, he had made such pilgrim's progress into her affections that Juliet was [illegible] after him, even accepting a kiss at parting, which she immediately returned, however, it suddenly occurring to her that it wouldn't be right to keep it, he being almost a total stranger.

"Devilish fine girl," remarked Romeo to a gentleman, passing out; "who is she, I wonder?"

"Don't you know her! That's Old Cap's daughter, Juliet."

This was a terrible shock to Romeo, and sounded the death knell to his hopes, for his intentions were strictly honorable. Juliet was equally overpowered when she learned that the fascinating pilgrim who had won her heart was the son of her father's detested enemy, John Jacob Montague.

When all was still, Romeo climbed a picket fence into old Capulet's garden. Juliet was sitting at her chamber window, softly singing.

Tenderly to night, love, without you,

As she leaned her cheek upon her hand, Romeo wished that he was a kid glove upon that hand that he might taste the largest possible amount of [illegible].

Oh [illegible] 't it! She, without perceiving him, for he was squatting down among the currant bushes, was softly singing: "Rummy! Oh, Rummy! Wherefore art thou, R[illegible]?"

She seemed to want him to go back on his old dad; swear that he wasn't a Montague at all that he was swapped of for another when he was a baby, or something of that sort, so that she could make it right with the old folks. She wanted to know what there was in a name anyhow and [illegible] it was good at the bank, and said a horse-shoe geranium would emit as agreeable an odor called by any other name, or words to that effect. But this is a question for botanists.

Romeo, hearing enough to feel convinced that she was sweet on him, got up from among the currant bushes, and did some very pretty talking himself, showing a mastery of the English language rarely attained by one of his tender years. There are men eighty five and ninety years of age who can't talk half as sweet to a woman as Romeo did to Jule, Capulet that night.

To be brief, they plighted their respective troths then and there, and Romeo, who felt competent to take care of a family on account of the premise of a position in the Revenue Department, engaging to arrange as quickly as possible for their marriage, disappeared over the picket fence.

Romeo had a clerical friend known as Friar Lawrence, who lived in a cell in the outskirts of the town. He sought the Friar and engaged him to perform the marriage ceremony, having decided to take it fried. Then he sent word to Juliet to meet him there in the afternoon, which she did, pretending to her folks that she was going to the Rink to practice roller skating. After the Friar had married them in his cell—a perpetual sell to many people, marriage is—they each went home to arrange for a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, if they could elude the old folks.

But fate and Shakespeare stood in the way of their happiness. On his way home Romeo got into a street fight with Tybalt, a kinsman of his father-in-law, (who had just killed the mercurial Mercutio,) and stabbed him with a sword cane, for which he was banished from Verona by the Board of Supervisors. He had an affecting interview with his wife, lasting all night, and took a canal packet in the morning for Mantua.

The marriage was kept a secret. Her parents, not knowing that Juliet was a grass widow, urged her to marry Count Paris, of Paris Hill. She put them off, pretending that her real grief for the banished Romeo was sorrow for the death of her cousin Tybalt. They said marriage with Paris would soothe her distress of mind—be as it were a plaster to her woe.

But, no, she didn't want any of it. No Plaster of Paris for her. But they urged the matter upon her, and finally old Cap got mad, and told her bluntly that if she didn't marry Paris on the coming Thursday, he would board her no longer he must support her[illegible] with the sewing machine. Being in a great stew, Juliet betook herself to the Friar, to whom she confided her story. He contrived a plan to at once free her from the hated marriage—giving a "grand trip to Paris," as he facetiously called it—and uniting her and Romeo. He gave her a sleeping potion to take which produced such an admirable counterfeit of death that the most expert counterfeit detectors who were called in, couldn't tell it from the genuine. She was mourned as dead, and laid away in the tomb of the Capulets, distinguished from the other tombs lying around by a large monogram on the outside, thus—

C

This being accomplished, Friar Lawrence telegraphed to Romeo to come at once, so that when Juliet awakened from her torpor he might bear her away to Mantua and set her up in the mantua-maker's business. The dispatch never reached him, but picking up the morning paper he read among the Associated Press dispatches the following.

VERONA, Sept 10

"Juliet Dorothy, only daughter of our well known citizen, William Henry Harrison Capulet, died very suddenly this morning."

That settled it. Romeo determined to share the tomb with her. Purchasing a gallon of benzine of an apothecary he went to Verona in the night. On searching for the vault of the Capulets, he came upon the county Paris, who was there to weep upon the grave of his betrothed. Him Romeo killed with one drink of the benzine, as he wasn't much used to liquor, then entering the tomb, he laid down by his Juliet, drank the gallon of benzine and died. His last words were "All right, old Cap!"

Juliet, awaking from her stupor and finding Romeo dead, slew herself with a dagger carelessly left in the tomb by the "property man."

In the graveyard at Venice may be seen to this day a neat marble slab, bearing the simple inscription

"ROMEO AND JULIET"

CAUTION.

To all whom it may concern. I hereby give notice that the so-called "Shipley's Pacific Turbine Water Wheel" is a direct infringement and copy of the James Leffel's American Double Turbine Water Wheel and its manufacture and use is hereby prohibited. Any person or persons making, using, constructing or vending said Water Wheels make themselves liable to heavy damages and penalties. Parties interested will take notice for I shall prosecute such infringements to the utmost extent of the law.

That all may know I mean what I say and am not playing bluff I give the following extract from a legal [illegible] on this subject from one of the most eminent Patent Attorneys in the United States.

WASHINGTON D. C. Apr 17 1868.

MR A MYERS—In accordance with your request we have examined the patents of Shipley's Water Wheels and are clearly of the opinion that they both infringe the Leffel's patents. In both of Shipley's Wheels he uses the upper and lower tiers of buckets precisely as Leffel does and in this he clearly infringes. The fact that Shipley has applied to other series [illegible] [illegible] used by Leffel does not relieve him from the consequences of infringement at all. He has no right [illegible] the [illegible] of buckets whether alone or with a third or any other number of tiers applied. It is a clear infringement. Respectfully yours,

DODGE & MUNN

I hereby give notice that I will prosecute every infringement on our Patents, whether it is the maker, user, buyer or seller. Every infringement whether our claims are used in whole or in part, will be prosecuted.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, [illegible] [illegible] Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Disease.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering with a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from a virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. To this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible [illegible] [illegible] they are careful [illegible] Send them to one thoroughly [illegible] who has made private diseases, exclusively for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. The majority of those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest [illegible] publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Do then [illegible] make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions [illegible] consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice [illegible] [illegible] is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms [illegible] scientific medical [illegible] dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, [illegible] and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was [illegible] either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN.

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these terrible maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of these self styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets, for as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus fictitious certificates, pretended patient's letters etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 952

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 952 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.

INSTITUTE.

 CONSULTATION, IN ALL CASES, FREE.*

 CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED.*

 IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED [illegible] UTMOST SECRESY MAINTAINED.*

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of this Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and humanity give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or in trouble to the invariable success that has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge,

SEMINAL WEAKNESS,

That is sapping with its insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation.
